The Place-Based Investing Network

Accelerating the transition to a good economy

Join the coalition of investors, place-makers, and public leaders accelerating the transition to an economy that works for everyone.

Why Now?

The UK stands at an inflection point. New policy directions and a widening investment gap are reshaping what “good investing” looks like. But this vision cannot be realised in isolation. To seize this opportunity, we must break down the silos between public policy and private capital.

Introducing The Place-Based Investing Network

We are moving the debate from 'why' and 'what' to 'how' and 'who'. The network is a market-building engine designed to create a trusted environment where the public and private sectors can share knowledge, build mutual understanding and co-create solutions.
